JAMES P. REGAN Army Ranger Lead The Way Fund

Army Ranger Lead The Way Fund was named in honor of Sgt. James J. Regan, a member of the elite Special Operations 75th Ranger Regiment, who gave his life in Iraq in 2007. The Fund was created to provide support to U.S. Army Rangers and their families whose needs were not being met by the government and VA.

Since its inception, LTWF has distributed over $8 million in financial assistance. LTWF programs have grown to include Wounded Ranger Recovery, Ranger and Family Health, Wellness and Morale, Ranger Chaplain, Gold Star and Civilian Transition Programs. LTWF provides hospital beds, home repair adjustments, travel and lodging expenses, retrofitted cars and builds / modifies mortgage-free, adaptable smart homes for our most severely wounded Rangers.

The global war on terrorism wages on for our Rangers and their families. With arduous training cycles, long deployments and ongoing casualties, Army Ranger Lead The Way Fund's support of these families continues to be paramount. We continue to 'Set the Standards and Lead The Way' as the pre-eminent benevolent organization providing financial support to the 75th Ranger Regiment, but we can't do it without you!
